RIGHT SOLUTIONS
RIGHT PARTNER

ALS Group provides a broad range of sophisticated, state of the art testing services across the globe. As a leader of analytical chemistry, ALS is a diversified international laboratory group with locations in Australia, North America, South America, Africa, Asia, and Europe. The company is one of the largest analytical laboratory groups in the world.

The ALS Environmental laboratory in Whitehorse services clients in the Yukon and surrounding area. The laboratory capabilities includes analyses for short holding time parameters in water to service the mining, wastewater and drinking water sectors, as part of ALS Environmental's innovative "Quick" program, and expand to include additional tests in water and soil/sediment based on market demand.

ALS Whitehorse also provides these value-added services:

- Sample reception and login for all other analyses performed by the flagship full service laboratory in Vancouver, BC
- Sampling supplies and technical support for analytical and sample container requirements
- Pick-up and delivery services

As an additional value-added service, ALS Environmental - Whitehorse has office space for clients to use as a "business centre" on a temporary basis.
